WALLER TAKES SEASON'S FINAL STAKES RACE

Seaway caps off another record-breaking season for Chris Waller (bradleyphotos.com.au)

Godolphin's James Cummings has trained more stakes winners than Chris Waller this season but Sydney's premier trainer has come out on top in the final black-type race for the year.

The Waller-trained Seaway (NZ) (Ocean Park) has given the stable its fifth win from seven runnings of the Listed Winter Challenge (1500m) at Rosehill on Saturday.

Cummings has ended the season with 61 stakes wins to Waller's 54 with the latter well ahead in the Group One count with 18.

While Waller is internationally famous for the deeds of world champion Winx (Street Cry), horses like Seaway are the backbone of his Sydney stable.

Syndicated by Denise Martin's Star Thoroughbreds, Seaway may never reach Group One heights but Waller believes he can continue to reap rewards for his owners with wins at the next tier down.

"He is a Group Two type of horse," Waller said.

"He could run in a race like the Shannon Stakes and maybe sneak into an Epsom Handicap as a rough chance but he is just below the top level."

"We pulled him out of a race here a couple of weeks ago because of the heavy track so he was four weeks between runs."

"But he has shown he goes well fresh."

Tommy Berry settled Seaway in a handy position and he strode to the front in the straight to hold off Goodfella (Snitzel) by a neck with $3.20 favourite Eckstein (I Am Invincible) another short neck third.

"The part that won him the race was the breather he had in the middle stages," Berry said.

"He was the class horse in the race, especially back on top of the ground and he showed that." -AAP

SAI FAH BOOKENDS TWO-YEAR-OLD SEASON WITH STAKES VICTORY

Successful in the first two-year-old race of the season back in September, Cambridge colt Sai Fah (NZ) (Rios) proved his durability when he took out the season's final black-type feature, the Listed Courtesy Ford Ryder Stakes (1200m) at Otaki on Saturday.

The Stephen Marsh-trained galloper had indicated he was in fine fettle for the late-season challenge when successful over 1100m at Te Rapa seven days ago.

National Jockey's premiership leader, Lisa Allpress took over in the saddle from Michael Coleman and produced a peach of a ride as she brought up her 1500th New Zealand career victory.

Sent forward from an outside barrier, Sai Fah settled nicely, albeit four-wide on the speed, before issuing a challenge on the point of the home turn. Despite wanting to hang in badly the colt proved too tough for his rivals in the run home as he held out a late burst from Te Rapa visitor Flaunting (NZ) (Showcasing) to score a deserved victory.

Allpress was feeling suitably pleased with the result after bringing up her career milestone.

"That's pretty special, although numbers are just a thing as I'm out there to win every race I go in, a stakes race is always a little bit more special," Allpress said.

"The plan was to sit outside the leader although I don't think he (Marsh) meant five wide."

"I was thinking there was going to be an interesting test when I got back in. Up the straight I was thinking I will have both Danielle (Johnson) and Stephen riding this one so it was just very pleasing to get him to the line.

"He just tried so hard and you can see that the track conditions are really really bad and he was struggling, but he just kept giving.

"I think he is going to be better on top of the ground so it's a true testament to the horse as he's very tough."

Sai Fah is the third foal of Fast 'n' Famous mare, Rongonui and was purchased for $6,000 by owners the Mission Downs Trust from Waikato Stud's 2017 National Weanling Sale draft. The colt has now won three of his 8 career starts.

The win also edged Marsh closer to the 100-win mark for the season as he now sits on 97 victories with just the Tauranga meeting next Wednesday to round out the 2018/19 racing season.

IN-FORM TAVIRUN WINS AGAIN AT CAULFIELD

The impressive winter form of three-year-old Tavirun (NZ) (Tavistock) has continued at Caulfield, with the gelding taking a distance rise in his stride to claim his third-straight win at the track.

After victories over 2000m at his previous two starts, Tavirun stepped up to 2400m for the first time in Saturday's Mypunter.com Handicap and had a jockey change with apprentice Teo Nugent taking over from Nikita Beriman so that he could claim 3kg from the 59.5kg impost.

Tavirun enjoyed a nice trail behind the leaders before Nugent got going on the gelding to take over the lead approaching the home turn.

The Trent Busuttin and Natalie Young-trained Tavirun skipped clear and kept rallying to have a 1-1/4-length margin over runner-up Not A Single Cent (Not A Single Doubt) on the line, with Wealthy Wolf (Foxwedge) another two lengths away third.

"It's pretty exciting," Young said.

"Teodore rode him a treat."

"It worked out perfectly with the two leaders in front and he sat behind them. He got going at the right time in the right part of the track."

"He's a nice horse going forward."

Young said Tavirun would likely now have a short freshen-up before looking to some spring targets, with the Naturalism Stakes and Cranbourne Cup among the options.

"Those sorts of races are going to be right up his alley and now having won at 2400 metres, the options open up even wider," Young said.

Tavirun wins at Caulfield putting three in a row on the board (Bruno Cannatelli)

Longer term, next year's Singapore Derby for four-year-olds is on the radar as Tavirun is part-owned by Singapore-based trainer Shane Baertschiger.

Tavirun's three-straight wins late in this season have taken his overall record to five wins from 15 starts.

Young said Tavirun was holding his condition better than his previous campaign and said they had also varied his training, which was working.

"We always thought earlier on he would be a Derby type and it didn't pan out," Young said.

"But going forward there's plenty of options." -AAP

VERRY FLASH TAKES OUT ROTORUA FEATURE

Trainer Nick Bishara capped off a wonderful 2018/19 racing season with a winning double at Rotorua on Saturday including taking out the day's feature event, the RSA Taumarunui Gold Cup (2200m) with Verry Flash (NZ) (Zed).

Fresh from taking out the race prior to the feature with promising four-year-old mare Cherry Lane (NZ) (Redwood), Bishara was confident he could make it a winning double with Verry Flash who had finished an unlucky third at Te Rapa in his most recent run.

Bishara retained his faith in apprentice Rebecca Scott who was aboard that day and she repaid Bishara with a heady ride that saw her sit patiently near the rear throughout before improving into a challenging position with 700m to run.

Verry Flash loomed into contention early in the run home and proved too strong in the final stages as he defeated Opaki visitor Strolling Vagabond (NZ) (Darci Brahma) with race favourite Obsessive (NZ) (Darci Brahma) close up in third.

Bishara, who has more than doubled his previous best tally of wins in a season along with experiencing Group One glory as an owner through star three-year-old filly Verry Elleegant (NZ) (Zed), was all smiles after the race.

"It's just terrific to win the Taumarunui Cup as a lot of my relatives started out in the area," Bishara said.

"I'm sure they will all be popping out of the woodwork tonight."

Considered talented enough to take his place in this season's Gr.1 Auckland Cup (3200m), Verry Flash vindicated Bishara's high opinion of his staying talent with the victory.

"It was probably a year too soon for the Auckland Cup, but he was going so good we thought we had to have a crack," he said.

Apprentice Rebecca Scott is all smiles as she guides Verry Flash to victory (Trish Dunell)

"He was always going to be a good stayer and he is still on the way up, which is the scary thing."

"We will put him aside now for a couple of months and then try and get some black-type with him."

"He will probably run fresh-up in the Karaka Classic (Listed 1600m) in September and then come back to Rotorua for the Listed 1950m race in October."

The victory also provided a pivotal career moment for Scott who is still eligible to claim a three-kilogram apprentice allowance.

"I knew he could win the race, I just had to ride him properly and he gave me his all out there," Scott said.

"I wanted to be a little bit handier when we jumped but he managed to creep up on the inside and he just made gaps himself as he was travelling that well."

"He is a really good stayer in the making as I could hardly pull him up after the line as he wanted to go around again."

Verry Flash is the older brother of multiple Group One winner, Verry Elleegant, and has now won six of his 22 career starts for owner-breeder Don Goodwin and Bishara.

CONSISTENCY REWARDED FOR ART DECO

Capable wet track performer Art Deco (NZ) (Road to Rock) put the first win on the board of her current campaign when she out-finished her rivals to take out the Courtesy Ford Handicap (1200m) at Otaki on Saturday.

The Allan Sharrock-trained six-year-old had finished in the money in her first four outings this season including a runner-up finish in the Listed Tauranga Classic (1400m) at her last start back in June.

Handled capably by apprentice rider Hazel Schofer, Art Deco enjoyed the 3kg weight reduction of her 60kg topweight provided by Schofer's allowance as she maintained a solid home straight burst from last to down the evergreen Taurus with Deerfield battling on strongly for third.

Sharrock admitted he was surprised to see the mare so far back during the running of the event but it may be the key to getting the best out of her.

"That might be the key to her as she quite often gets to the front and buttons off," Sharrock said.

"So, I think the quieter we ride her the better she will finish."

Sharrock had resisted the temptation to line Art Deco up in last weekend's Listed Opunake Cup (1400m) on her home track, preferring to wait a week as he gets set to test his charge over more ground in her coming starts.

"I was going to run her in the Opunake Cup, but John Bell's horse (Helena Baby) at that weight, you couldn't beat him," he said.

"I said to Bill (co-owner, Bill Gleeson) let's just wait and look for other races further along.

"She's a 2000m mare on better ground so we're just going to plot a course and head towards 2000m.

"There is one at Wanganui (September 7) that you can claim in, so we might just wait for that."

Bred and owned by Peter Gillespie and Bill Gleeson, Art Deco has now won eight of her 32 career starts and has been placed on a further 17 occasions including three at stakes level.

FURTHER ACCOLADES FOR BEAUTY GENERATION

Dual Hong Kong Horse of The Year Beauty Generation was named the Horse of the Year at the Cathay Pacific Group One Awards Dinner in Hamilton on Friday night. (Hong Kong Jockey Club)

Dual Hong Kong Horse of The Year Beauty Generation (NZ) (Road to Rock) was named the Horse of the Year at the Cathay Pacific Group One Awards Dinner, hosted by the Waikato branch of the New Zealand Thoroughbred Breeders' Association, at Sky City Hamilton on Friday night.

The six-year-old son of Road to Rock was undefeated this season, recording a Hong Kong record of eight wins this term, four of those at Group One level.

He also set a new all-time prizemoney record of HK$84.7 million (NZ$16.1 million) and earned the equal-highest rating (127) ever achieved by a Hong Kong horse in the LONGINES World's Best Racehorse Rankings.

Road to Rock was bred by Greg Tomlinson of Nearco Stud, who could not attend Friday's Awards, and Beauty Generation's existence came about by chance according to his breeder.

As an investor in several stallions in New Zealand, he was on the lookout for a number of lease mares for one of those stallions, dual Group One winner Road to Rock.

He happened across Stylish Bel, a Bel Esprit mare, who he thought would be an ideal mating for the stallion.

"I was short of mares and Stylish Bel was a mare that we leased and on pedigree we felt that she was right for Road to Rock," he said.

"It's great (to have bred such a good horse), we know how hard it is to do it and I'm just lucky enough to have been involved in the breeding of the horse.

"He's quite amazing and at the moment he could be one of the better horses to come out of New Zealand for some time, which is great for New Zealand and the breeding economy."

Tomlinson sold Beauty Generation through Highden Park's 2014 New Zealand Bloodstock Select Yearling Sale draft for $60,000 to Kiwi supermodel Kylie Bax under her Hermes Syndications banner.

The son of Road to Rock was initially trained in Australia by Anthony Cummings, where he raced as Montaigne, and was runner-up in the Gr.1 Rosehill Guineas (2000m) before he was sold to Hong Kong.

He has thrived in the Asian racing jurisdiction, winning seven Group One races to date.

Breeders from around New Zealand were honoured for the first time at the awards ceremony in Hamilton on Friday night where seventeen horses were acknowledged for their feats on the track this season.

Brighthill Farm's Benji King was the recipient of the Mary Lynne Ryan Young Achiever Award, while Joan Egan was awarded the Mills Reef Personality of the Year.

WOODWORTH MAKES CHANCE RIDE ON SAFEER COUNT

n-form jockey Benny Woodworth got onto the scoresheet thanks to a pick-up ride on Friday night.

After Singapore Derby-winning jockey Joseph Azzopardi was stood down halfway through proceedings, the Malaysian rider got the call-up for both of the young Australian jockey's remaining two rides – Qiji Commander (Helmet) and Safeer (NZ) (Savabeel).

While the Donna Logan-trained Qiji Commander, a last-start all-the-way winner, faltered badly after trying to beat a wide alley to go forward again in the $50,000 Class 4 Division 1 race over 1100m won by Soldado (NZ) (Pins), Woodworth enjoyed better luck with the second chance ride.

Breaking fairly from his outside gate in the $70,000 Class 3 race over 1200m, Safeer dropped to the back in between runners while favourite Lim's Dream called the tune upfront.

Safeer took the shortcuts home at the top of the straight after Woodworth momentarily switched his mount across before thinking better of it.

Realising he would run into dead ends towards that end, he ducked back to the inside for the shortest way home.

Just when Lim's Dream thought he had his two challengers covered, Safeer surged from the inside to get his measure by half-a-length.

A four-year-old by Savabeel, Safeer was bringing up his fifth win at his 20th start for prizemoney in excess of S$210,000 for the Al-Arabiya Stable.

It was his fourth success under Michael Clements' care as the maiden win came at his second start in August 2017 for trainer Ricardo Le Grange.

"He's a horse with a lot of ability, but who has not had much luck with the barriers," said Clements.

"I think he's drawn outside 10 at his last four runs. He scored his last win two starts ago (in a similar Class 3 race over 1200m) and he beat some good horses then."

"He needs to draw closer on the rails. Things went his way tonight."

"We may take the next step at the Merlion Trophy for him. The owner always had the confidence he would get there."

Woodworth was for one happy he was not returning home empty-handed on Friday night, even if it came at the expense of a fellow rider.

Safeer surges up along the rails to claim the Class 3 race on Friday night (Singapore Turf Club)

"I was lucky to get two pick-up rides and I'm even luckier one of them won," said Woodworth.

"The horse jumped out well, travelled well and got a run on the inside. At one stage, I elected to go to the outside but the run didn't come through."

"He's a talented horse, but if the pace is too slow, he pulls and that doesn't suit him. When he gets the right run, he can then show he is a good horse." -STC

SOLDADO BACK TO WINNING WAYS

Without a win since November, Soldado (NZ) (Pins) came through a well strung-out field in the $50,000 Class 4 Division 1 race over 1100m to bounce back to the winner's circle in style on Friday night.

With Supersonicsurprise (Falvelon) and Qiji Commander (Helmet) going hell-for-leather upfront, Soldado was able to overcome his outermost alley to tack onto the leading bunch rather comfortably, albeit three wide.

When Soldado, which means soldier in Spanish, came swooping down on the outside, resistance was futile. The six-year-old put his 10 rivals to the sword to go and salute for the fourth time at Kranji.

Trainer Shane Baertschiger said that Soldado had had a mixed run since coming back from a bleeding attack, but a hot pace and a smart ride from Powell put him right back on track at his 38th start on Friday.

"He bled after he won his last race at the end of last year. I gave him a spell and he came back good," said the Australian handler who cements his fourth place on the leader's log with that 34th win.

"He got a terrible ride at his last start. Putting a senior jockey back on did the trick."

"He also got back to a weight JP can ride him. There was good speed to the race, I thought they would break up and the broke up as they do."

"It was a great ride from JP. Things are going great at the stable, I will be turning over a few horses and things will be quiet for a while, but we will be strong again at the end of the year."

Powell has now partnered the New Zealand-bred at three of his four wins, but the veteran rider said he was still not a conveyance that can give him 100% confidence when he gets legged up aboard.

"He was drawn wide, but from the barrier, he got into a good position when the race split into two groups," said the Australian jockey.

"I was able to slot him in behind and in the straight I just let him sail home on the outside."

"You can never have too much confidence with this type of horse, but he gave me a nice kick at the top of the straight tonight."

While Soldado's haul now sits at four wins, his handy placing record of seven seconds and eight thirds have contributed a significant portion to his stakes earnings that have now hit around the $260,000 mark for the Soldado Stable. -STC
