FARM WORK TAKES PRIORITY OVER RANDWICK EXPERIENCE

The Chosen One (pictured) will return home after his thrilling win in the Gr.3 Frank Packer Plate at Randwick on Saturday (Race Images South)

It's not often you find the owner of a Group Three winner at Royal Randwick happily ensconced on his tractor cutting grass less than twenty-four hours after such a notable victory.

That however is the scenario for Southlander Tony Dennis, who along with brothers Ray, Kevin (Joe) and Martin, bred and are members of the syndicate who race Gr.3 Frank Packer Plate (2000m) winner, The Chosen One (NZ) (Savabeel).

"I'm just on the tractor getting some baleage cut while the weather holds," Tony said on Sunday morning.

"You don't often get a few days in a row of good weather at this time of the year, so you have to make the most of it when you do."

The on-farm commitments meant Dennis didn't travel to Sydney with his brothers and other syndicate members to witness the victory in person, although he seriously considered it given the team were bullish about The Chosen One's chances in the race.

"Most of them went over on Thursday but I wanted to get the baleage done," he said.

"I had intended to go and was looking at flights on Friday but in the end, I stayed back home.

"I went to the local meeting at Riverton instead and saw the race on television there.

“We were pretty confident he could win given the way he went in the Australian Derby (Gr.1, 2400m) when he ran fourth. We thought he backs up pretty well in his races so as long as he got some luck, he would be hard to beat.

“He was very impressive as he sprinted from the 600m and won pretty comfortably in the end.”

Dennis confirmed that plans for The Chosen One would see him return home for a break before being set for the Melbourne spring carnival later this year.

“He’s a pretty exciting prospect as we think he will only get better as he matures so it’s a good time for him to have a break now,” he said.

“I believe the plan is to get him to Melbourne next spring so he might not be seen here if the tracks are no good as Murray and Andrew will take him straight over there.

“He looks like a 2000-2400m type so there are plenty of opportunities there for him.”

Still a colt, the son of champion sire Savabeel has enhanced any future stallion prospects with Saturday’s victory and joins a long list of top performers the Dennis brothers have raced or bred.

Recognised in 2015 with the Outstanding contribution to New Zealand thoroughbred racing award, their list of top-quality gallopers produced includes Gr.1 Cox Plate (2040m) winner, The Phantom Chance (NZ) (Noble Bijou), along with The Twinkle (NZ) (Gatekeeper), The Phantom (NZ) (Noble Bijou), The Diamond One (Tale Of The Cat) and The Chosen One’s grand-dam, The Jewel (NZ) (O’Reilly).

Dennis admits that the current state of the local industry has seen them reduce their breeding and racing numbers as the costs involved in breeding and racing haven’t been matched by the resulting benefits in recent years.

“We’ve dropped our numbers a fair bit of late as it’s a pretty expensive game to be in when the returns don’t stack up,” he said.

“We have four mares on the farm with another four up north so it’s not as if we have quit or anything but we’re selling a few more these days and not racing as many as we used to.

“You have to be able to sell to make ends meet and at the moment, the racing returns just don’t stack up.”

With that in mind, Dennis is looking forward to the annual NZB South Island Yearling Sale that will take place in Christchurch on April 29, where the brothers will be represented by Lot 41, a colt by Ghibellines out of their Classic Fame mare, The Cloud, offered through the White Robe Lodge draft.

The grey colt is closely related to multiple Australian stakes winner, Sold For Song (Collate) and hardy sprinter El Chico (NZ) (Stravinsky) who won 24 races in a career that saw him successful seven times at black-type level along with finishing third in the Gr.1 Telegraph Handicap (1200m).

FELAAAR READY FOR MELBOURNE MISSION

Cambridge trainer Stephen Marsh has confirmed a hit and run mission to Melbourne for Hawke's Bay Cup winner, Felaar (NZ) (Ekraar).

The progressive Ekraar five-year-old has thrived since his Hastings victory with Marsh set to test him in Melbourne with a view to possible future assignments across the Tasman in his next campaign.

"He hasn't put a foot wrong since his win and has thrived," Marsh said.

"He will head over to Melbourne next for a handicap event over 2600m at Flemington on May 4.

"If he goes well there, then he will contest the Andrew Ramsden (Listed 2800m) three weeks later."

Restricted to three, four and five-year-olds, the Listed Andrew Ramsden

Stakes (2800m) is shaping up as an important race for Gr.1 Melbourne Cup (3200m) aspirants as it now carries an automatic ballot exemption into the famous Flemington two-miler on the first Tuesday in November.

Marsh is keen to take the opportunity to assess Felaaar against Australian opposition as he looks towards next season.

"I'm just not sure what he will come up against in Melbourne at this time of the year, but it does represent an excellent chance to gauge where he is at in relation to them," he said.

"We know that he has the makings of being a top stayer once he puts it all together so once we see how he goes, we can start to put a programme together for him for next season."

On the local scene Marsh produced a winning treble at Ellerslie on Saturday where Santa Catarina (NZ) (Savabeel) and Savapak (NZ) (Savabeel) took out the first two races before Tightlign (NZ) (Align) was successful later in the day.

"It was a top day and I thought Santa Catarina was very good when winning race one," he said.

"She showed plenty of ticker to kick away when challenged in the run home and she recorded some slick sectionals in doing it.

"As long as she comes through the run well, she will back up in the Cambridge Breeders' Stakes (Gr.3 1200m) at Te Rapa next Saturday."

It wasn't all plain sailing for Marsh however with race favourite Glinda Goodwitch (NZ) (Per Incanto) disappointing when only beating one home in the Listed Buffalo & Co

Champagne Stakes (1600m).

"She didn't get a lot of luck in the run, but we thought she would finish off a little better than she did," he said.

"She can go to the spelling paddock now and I'm looking forward to seeing her come back as a three-year-old."

ROCK ON READY TO ROLL IN VICTORIA

Handy stayer Rock On has arrived in Victoria and has joined the stable of Peter Gelagotis at his Moe base (Race Images - Peter Rubery)

Six-year-old stayer Rock On (NZ) (Road To Rock) has arrived in Victoria and has joined the stable of Peter Gelagotis at his Moe base.

The last start winner of the Te Aroha Cup (2200m) has been sent over by his New Zealand trainer Gary Vile, who also shares in the ownership.

"I just thought Melbourne would suit him quite well and there are two or three races there for him," Vile said.

"I will just leave it up to Peter and let him get a feel for the horse over the next couple of days.

"He is ready to go. He has come through his win at Te Aroha very well and I am pretty happy with him, so I thought you might as well have a go."

Vile said Rock On, the winner of seven races, was on a mission to bank some more prizemoney whilst also being able to race on superior racetracks over the coming months.

"Our weather cracks up a little bit quicker than what it does over there and when you can race for A$130,000 on a Saturday, it's a lot of money to us," Vile said.

Meanwhile, stablemate Jacksstar (NZ) (Zed) has enjoyed a brief freshen up following his third placing in the Listed Hawke's Bay Cup (2200m) behind Felaar (NZ) (Ekraar) and Igraine (Galileo).

The injury-plagued stayer had previously won the Gr.2 Awapuni Gold Cup (2000m) in fine style.

"He's come through the Hawke's Bay Cup run great and he has spent a little bit of time in the paddock," Vile said.

"I have spoken to the owners and we will bring him back on Monday and we will probably have a go at the Rotorua Cup (Gr.3, 2200m) with him."

Vile said he had opted to stick locally with Jacksstar rather than trying him across the Tasman largely due to his temperament and history of injury.

Just over two years ago, Jacksstar suffered a tendon injury when finishing third in the Gr.1 Auckland Cup (3200m) and the now seven-year-old has shown he still has the ability to compete at Group level.

"He's such a difficult horse to work," Vile said.

"I would love to have taken him to Brisbane but trying to find somewhere for him to work is a challenge. He can't work with too many other horses. He is a difficult horse.

"He has been like that since the outset.

"Jacksstar would be the best stayer that I have ever trained. Had he not broken down, he would have been a star."

LINCOLN FALLS SET FOR TE RAPA FEATURE

A comfortable victory at the Waverley trials earlier this month has confirmed a start in Saturday's Gr.3 Inglis Sales Cambridge Breeders' Stakes (1200m) for promising three-year-old Lincoln Falls (Dundeel).

The Lisa Latta-trained galloper had a short break after finishing unplaced in the Gr.1 New Zealand Derby (2400m) at Ellerslie last month with Latta confirming he had also been gelded during his time away from the track.

The Dundeel gelding pleased Latta with his trial performance where he sat comfortably outside the speed throughout over 1000m in open company before doing just enough to head off stablemate Almo Street (NZ) (Alamosa) at the finish.

"He trialled up nicely at Waverley and has done well since then," Latta said.

"We tipped him out for a few days after the Derby and had him gelded while he was out. He could be a little wayward in his races and I think the gelding will help with that.

"He will go up to Te Rapa for the Breeders' Stakes for his first run back."

Latta will also head north with consistent mare China Star (NZ) (Chinese Dragon) who will tackle the Gr.2 Travis Stakes (2000m), a race that saw her finish runner-up to Our Abbadean (NZ) (Lookin At Lucky) last year.

Latta also reported that a number of her stable stars were enjoying time off before commencing preparations for spring racing, however she has lost the services of consistent open class performer, Five To Midnight (NZ) (Domesday).

"Sentimental Miss, Secret Allure and Sir Nate are all in the paddock now and won't come back in for another month or so," she said.

"They all did a really good job this season and I think there is more in store for them in their next campaigns.

"Five To Midnight won't be there as he has left my stable and will do his future racing with Patrick Payne in Melbourne."

Raced by Kamada Racing principal, Kevin Pratt, Five To Midnight finished runner-up in the Gr.1 Auckland Cup (3200m) in his last run for Latta, a position he had filled in the 2018 edition of the event.

The six-year-old won 9 races from 43 starts in New Zealand including the Gr.3 Waikato Gold Cup (2400m), the Listed Hawke's Bay Gold Cup (2200m) and Listed Feilding Gold Cup (2100m).

PATROL ON THE IMPROVE

Promising three-year-old Dawn Patrol (Trish Dunell)

Frank Ritchie will make a call on Tuesday as to whether his boutique stable's leading light will contest the feature races at Te Rapa on Saturday.

The Cambridge trainer has already confirmed Fiscal Fantasy (Skilled) for the day's main event, the Gr.2 Travis Stakes (2000m), but he has yet to make a final decision on a start for three-year-old stablemate Dawn Patrol (NZ) (Dawn Approach) in the Gr.3 Inglis Sales Cambridge Breeders' Stakes (1200m).

Whereas Fiscal Fantasy was in top form last start when winning the Gr.3 Manawatu Breeders' Stakes (2000m) at Awapuni, Dawn Patrol was a well-beaten hot favourite in his most recent outing, a three-year-old 1400m at Te Aroha earlier this month, after over-racing fiercely in front and weakening to eighth of the 10 starters.

A subsequent veterinary examination revealed Dawn Patrol was suffering from a minor bacterial infection and, although the problem was treated immediately, it has seriously affected his build-up to the Cambridge Breeders' Stakes.

"His temperature was up for a while and we just couldn't get it down," Ritchie said.

"Apparently it affected one lung and he was wheezing a bit afterwards. His temperature stayed up for over a week.

"He is the sort of horse that if he is not feeling on his game he can do what he did at Te Aroha. He just runs.

“He was off his game and, though his temperature has come right and he’s bright enough, he has put on an enormous amount of weight. I cut back his feed for that reason.

“He had his first gallop on Saturday morning and he’ll gallop on Tuesday morning and I’ll make a decision after that whether he runs on Saturday or not.

“He needs to convince me he is fit enough. I have got to be 100 percent sure or I won’t pay up.”

If Dawn Patrol does pass the Tuesday test, he will have to again satisfy Ritchie on Thursday morning before taking his place on Saturday.

“It’s going to be a top field and it’ll be a tough race,” Ritchie said. “The next problem for me will be finding a rider because most riders have got rides in it and I can’t commit anyone until I’m sure he will start.”

The Te Aroha failure was the first time Dawn Patrol had finished out of the first three placings in six starts. Those previous efforts included two wins and three black type placings, including a second to Madison County (NZ) (Pins) in the Gr.1 New Zealand 2000 Guineas (1600m) at Riccarton and a third to Emily Margaret (NZ) (Pins) in the Gr.2 Wellington Guineas (1400m) at Trentham last month.

Meanwhile, Leith Innes will again ride Fiscal Fantasy in the Travis Stakes with the petite four-year-old mare set to be spelled after Saturday’s race.

“She’s been up for a long time and really in each of her last three runs I have kept thinking we won’t go much further, but after a week she keeps coming back,” Ritchie said.

“But this will be it after Saturday. She can have a well-earned spell. She had her first run this season at Hawke’s Bay (last October) and all her runs have been for good stakes and hard races.

“She keeps surprising me. I keep saying how small she is, but she’s as tough as teak and keeps coming back for more.”

The daughter of Skilled has picked up four wins and nine placings from 18 starts. She has been in the money every start this season and been unlucky not to win more.

“Really she should have won her last two, but this is another level up on Saturday,” Ritchie said.

“She deserves a crack at it and the thing with her is if it rains a bit it doesn’t worry her, as long as it’s not too much.”

WINNING DOUBLE FOR BELL AT ROTORUA

Cambridge trainer John Bell enjoyed a top day out at Rotorua on Monday where he produced a winning race-to-race double.

Bell took out the feature race on the programme with under-rated galloper Yorkshire Dales (Vale Of York) who triumphed over 1215m in open company.

The seven-year-old gelding was having his first run since closing up his last campaign with a tidy effort for fifth in the Gr.2 Rich Hill Mile (1600m) at Ellerslie on New Year's Day.

Allowed to find his feet during the early stages by rider Craig Grylls, Yorkshire Dales travelled up strongly approaching the home bend before dashing to the front shortly after straightening. Grylls kept his charge up to the mark as they lasted to score by a neck from Woodville visitor Casaquinman (NZ) (Per Incanto) with race favourite Te Toro Pearl (NZ) (Bullbars) in third.

"He's a happy horse who is going very very well and you will see a lot more of him," Bell said.

"We're going to look after him and pick our races one at a time. He looks like he has come through it quite well and is very fit."

Yorkshire Dales did his early racing in England where he was successful in two of his five starts before being sold to Hong Kong where he failed to fire in his only run before being transferred to Bell's stable where he has now won four of his 10 New Zealand starts.

One race earlier the Bell-trained Helena Baby (NZ) (Guillotine) indicated he could be in for a profitable winter when he cleared maiden ranks in effortless fashion over 1400m.

Runner-up in his first two starts, the Guillotine four-year-old never gave his race rivals a look-in as he led all the way in the hands of rider Donovan Mansour. Allowed his head with 500m to run, Helena Baby shot clear with Mansour easing him down over the final 100m to score by a conservative five lengths at the line.

Bell had earlier expressed some concerns about the Heavy10 track for his charge, but those fears proved unfounded as Helena Baby relished the underfoot conditions.

"He's a nice horse who is going to go right through the grades," Bell said.

Mansour echoed those sentiments as he made his way back to winner's enclosure.

"He's a nice horse who I think 1400m-1600m is his game," he said.

"It's always good when they travel like that. I galloped him on a wet track before and he loved it so I knew he would like it today."
