WALKER CHASING DERBY WIN WITH SAVABEEL GELDING

Sacred Croix will attempt to give trainer Mark Walker his first Singapore Derby crown on Sunday (STC)

Trainer Mark Walker is confident four-year-old Savabeel gelding Sacred Croix (NZ) can provide him with an elusive Derby victory.

The Raffles Racing-owned galloper is a leading contender for the S$1 million Singapore Derby (1800m) on Sunday after finding the line well for second in both legs of the four-year-old series to date, the Listed Silver Bowl (1400m) and the Listed Steward's Cup (1600m).

A winner of four of his seven starts, in addition to those two-runner up finishes, Sacred Croix will have to turn the tables on the smart Cliff Brown-trained mare What's New (NZ) (Casino Prince), who has usurped Sacred Croix at his past two outings.

WALKER CHASING DERBY WIN WITH SAVABEEL GELDING

“He’s been a touch unlucky in his first two runs in the four-year-old series. He has been caught three-wide without cover in both of them and the winner had all favours, so he deserves a bit of luck this time around,” Walker said.

Drawn barrier 9 on Sunday, Walker is hopeful rider Benny Woodworth can find a position midfield with cover.

“That would be a good spot for him,” Walker said.

“We’ve had a second with Elite Invincible last year and Rockfast ran third in the race (in 2016) as well, so it would be nice to win it.

“It would be great to win it for Raffles. They’re great supporters of ours up here. They always have some nice new horses coming up and Dato Yap and Bruce Sherwin are brilliant to train for.”

Walker said the relationship with Raffles Racing began through hardy galloper Viviano (NZ) (Keeper), who won once for Stephen McKee in New Zealand before transferring to Walker’s Singapore barn.

“He proved to be a good Class 2 horse and he has won in excess of $5560,000 since he has been up here. Dato Yap got a bit keen on the racing again up here and continued to send more horses up.

“I think probably Sacred Croix and Sacred Rebel have been the best that he has sent to us and we had another two that came out of quarantine on Tuesday.

“It is sometimes hard predicting which horses are going to improve and be suited to racing in Singapore. Some of them don’t show as good a form as they do in New Zealand and others get here and just grow another leg.

“I’d say it is more to do with the climate, but as a rule most of the New Zealand horses that come here do perform well because they’re so adaptable.

“Certain breeds like Darci Brahma has been outstanding up here because they have all got that fantastic temperament and Showcasing is another who gets a lot of winners.”

Walker is enjoying another strong season and is well-clear in the trainers’ premierships with 48 winners, 13 clear of his nearest rival.

“Last year we had a bit quieter year, but we had dominated the year before in the premierships and a number of our horses were highly-rated and had reached their grade,” Walker said.

“It was a little bit of a rebuilding year last season, but we are seeing the benefits this year.”

TRAVISTEE COULD EARN NZ TRIP VIA QUEENSLAND CUP

Caloundra trainer Paul Jenkins is considering taking improved staying mare Travistee (NZ) (Tavistock) to New Zealand to chase more black type.

In the space of seven weeks Travistee has gone from winning the Gatton Cup to being a last-start third in the Listed Caloundra Cup (2400m).

Travistee was second in the Provincial Stayers Cup and fifth in the Gr.3 Tattersall's Cup (3000m) between those runs.

She now looms as the local hope to break the domination of the southern stables in the Listed Queensland Cup (3200m) at Eagle Farm on Saturday.

Only two Queensland-trained horses have won the Cup in the past 20 years.

The Cup was first run in 1878 and held in November until a decade ago when it was switched to the winter carnival.

It is the only 3200m-race in Queensland although there is a suggestion it may be shortened to 2400m and switched back to the spring if the Brisbane Cup goes back to 3200m.

Whether that happens is of no concern to Jenkins who has carefully mapped out a genuine staying campaign for Travistee.

Jenkins has always believed the mare would get better with age and longer distances.

Jenkins won many staying feature races in his native New Zealand with his best horse Bazelle (NZ) (Zabeel) who won the 2005 Gr.1 Auckland Cup (3200m).

His best winner in Queensland has been King Keitel (NZ) (Keitel) in the 2001 Gr.1 Doomben Cup (2020m).

Jenkins has rarely had more than half a dozen horses in work since he moved permanently to the Sunshine Coast in 2012.

But he has had plenty of success with 13 winners this season from just 71 runners.

Jenkins part-owns Travistee and is keen to get as much black-type for the mare as possible.

"She won't be going to stud this year as she really has only just got up to competing in decent class," Jenkins said.

"She carries plenty of Montjeu blood so she will stay all day."

"There isn't a lot for her around here after Saturday. I have in the back of my mind that I give her a month's break and then take her to New Zealand chasing some black type in some of the distance races.

"She can then come back here for the next autumn or winter."

Apart from her stout breeding Jenkins has added faith Travistee will stay the 3200m on Saturday through her run in Tattersall's Cup.

In the Tatt's Cup Travistee was attacked in the lead for a long way but fought on for fifth while the leader dropped out of the finish.

"It was a stout effort and she does settle in her races," Jenkins said.

Tiffani Brooker has been Travistee's regular rider this winter and will again be in the saddle on Saturday.

Brooker has ridden eight winners since being successful on Travistee at her first ride back from injury in the Gatton Cup.

"Tiff knows Travistee well and a win would give us both a bit of a kick along," Jenkins said. - AAP

FIRST STAKES TEST FOR HELENA BABY

Promising galloper Helena Baby (NZ) (Guillotine) has won four of his six career starts and will get his first opportunity at stakes level at New Plymouth on Saturday when he contests the Listed Powerworx Opunake Cup (1400m).

Bell is pleased with his gelding heading into Saturday and believes the $2.40 fixed odds favourite is well in at the weights.

"He is working very well," Bell said. "He will have 53kg, so it is no surprise he is one of the favoured runners."

While Helena Baby could add a first stakes win to his record on Saturday, he will have at least one more opportunity next month in the Gr.2 US Navy Flag Foxbridge Plate (1200m) at Te Rapa.

The son of Guillotine is also nominated for the Gr.1 Tarzino Trophy (1400m), but Bell said his charge would likely either have to win or finish runner-up in the Foxbridge Plate in order to make the Hastings field.

"He is a class horse, he is a Group One type horse, and is an amazing animal to do anything with," he said.

Bell will also take Athena Baby (NZ) (Swiss Ace) and Silk (NZ) (Pentire) down to Taranaki this weekend and he likes the chances of both runners.

"We are very pleased with Silk, there's no form, but she is a gutsy mare and I am really quite happy with her," he said.

"Athena Baby is just coming into form. He likes the kick out of the ground and he is an older horse and a staying type.

"I am very pleased with him. He has come back from Hong Kong and has won half a million. He's a lovely horse, a gutsy horse."

Both Helena Baby and Athena Baby carry the Baby suffix of part-owner CY Lee, who has been a strong supporter of Bell's.

"CY Lee, he owns these horses," Bell said. "CY has about four daughters and Helena Baby is named after his wife, Athena Baby after one of his daughters, plus there are whole bunch in Hong Kong."

Meanwhile, Bell will line-up Awesome Babe (NZ) (Sufficient) in the Happy 60th Birthday Andy 1400 at Te Rapa on Saturday and he is confident that she can improve on her fifth-placed debut performance.

"She came to us from another stable," he said. "We gave her a nice trial and changed a few things with her.

"She has got a little bit of class. She ran fifth in her last start, which was quite an encouraging run.

"I think with Trudy (Thornton, jockey) on her, a decent draw (gate 5), and if she places her right and doesn't get any kickback from the sandy surface at Te Rapa, she should go quite nicely."

WELL-TRAVELLED SIMPLY FABULOUS SET FOR DEBUT AT TE RAPA

After a long journey that has spanned three countries, Simply Fabulous (Lawman) is set to kick off his racing career at Te Rapa on Saturday.

The Danica Guy-trained gelding will line up in the Happy 60th Birthday Andy (1400m), with Michael Coleman to ride from gate nine.

By Lawman out of a stakes-winning mare, and from a family stacked with black type, Simply Fabulous was bred in France.

He was bought by the Hong Kong Jockey Club for 260,000 euro at the 2016 Arqana Yearling Sale in Deauville, then fetched HK$2.7 million at the Hong Kong International Sale two years later.

But he never raced in Hong Kong.

“He injured a hind foot up there and had to have a couple of minor operations,” said Guy, who now shares ownership of the four-year-old with her mother Gayle, along with Duley Nicolson.

“They just weren’t able to get it to settle down properly in that environment up there. In the end the owners gifted the horse to me. I put him out in a paddock for three months and he came right – the circulation improved and he made really good progress.”

Simply Fabulous improved to the point of coming into work, then having three hitouts at the trials. After finishing fourth at Taupo on June 11, he has scored stylish wins in two subsequent appearances – most recently by five and a half lengths over 1100 metres at Te Rapa on Monday.

“He’s looked pretty smart in his trials,” Guy said. “He just keeps getting better. He’s still green. He hadn’t done much until recently, and everything he had done, he tended to do things wrong.

“But he’s starting to put it together now and he obviously has a bit of ability.

“Saturday’s race looks like a nice starting point for him. He’s bred to go over a trip, so we’ll get Saturday out of the way and take it from there. He’ll probably step up over a bit further later on.”

A multiple Group One-winning trainer based in Matamata, Guy currently has 15 horses in work.

She also stands Rios, the sire of her Gr.1 Levin Classic (1600m) winner Gaultier (NZ), for a fee of $2,500. She bought him from Waikato Stud on Gavelhouse last year.

“He was ill last season with a lung infection and we didn’t end up being able to serve any mares with him, which was a shame,” she said. “But he’s all good again now, so he’s here and ready to go if anyone would like to use him this season.”

NEWS IN BRIEF

Gold Ambition (NZ) (Savabeel)

Gold Ambition chasing belated stakes win

Enigmatic gelding Gold Ambition (NZ) (Savabeel) gets a chance to win his first stakes race on Saturday.

An impressive last-start win has earned Gold Ambition a chance in the Listed Tattersall's Mile (1600m) at Eagle Farm on Saturday.

Despite a slow early pace, Gold Ambition came from near last to win a 1600m benchmark race at Doomben and once again showed on his day he has a terrific final burst. Full story here

Yogi (NZ) (Raise The Flag)

Yogi chasing QLD cup win

The training partnership of Ciaran Maher and David Eustace have a shot at collecting their fifth stakes win of the Queensland Winter Carnival on Saturday.

Tough stayer Yogi (NZ) (Raise The Flag) will contest the Listed Queensland Cup (3200m).

The six-year-old gelding has been allotted topweight of 60kgs and will be ridden by Ryan Maloney.

No horse in the last 20 years has carried 60kgs to victory in the Queensland Cup with Michael Moroney's Tinseltown (NZ) (Pentire) in 2010 and Mister Impatience (Hernando) in 2014 the previous highest weighted winners with 58kgs.

"The Queensland trip has been very good for us with Kenedna winning the Doomben Cup and O'Shea Stakes and Dubious and Etana winning Group Twos," Maher said.

"Hopefully, we can finish up there with another winner in the Queensland Cup."

Yogi is coming off a last start second to Destiny's Kiss (Power of Destiny) in the Listed Winter Cup (2400m) on a slow track at Rosehill on June 24.

"Yogi's got 60kgs but that's a weight I'm quite pleased with after he had 59kgs in the Winter Cup," Maher said.

"He was very good in the Winter Cup and I've had this race in mind for him for a long time.

"He's well credentialled and won the Sandown Cup last year and he'll probably head back home for that race again after his Brisbane trip."

My Pendant ready for Flemington return

After showing promise during her first preparation which included three city wins, talented filly My Pendant (NZ) (Pins) is set for a late-season return at Flemington.

My Pendant made her debut in October and after two second-placed finishes she pieced together city wins at Sandown, The Valley and Flemington.

Trainer Danny O'Brien kept the filly ticking over for a crack at The Vanity (1400m) in February eight weeks after her Flemington win, but the three-year-old was spelled after finishing unplaced in the Group Two race.

My Pendant resumes in Saturday's TAB/ATA Trainers' Trust Handicap (1200m) for three-year-olds and O'Brien says the filly is forward enough to perform strongly.

"She's really well," O'Brien said.

"She trialled at Flemington last Friday on the course proper and the trial was excellent. She had great form earlier in the season and we're expecting her to run well.

"We tried to keep her going for The Vanity in February. Obviously we were just trying to get that look at a black-type race, but it didn't work out that way.

"So we gave her a good break and now she's ready to go again.

"She appreciates a bit of give in the ground so it's the right time to have her up and about. And obviously there's some black-type races through August and September if she proved herself worthy."

London Express (NZ) (Shamexpress)

Triple threat for Sharrock in 3YO feature

New Plymouth trainer Allan Sharrock will have a strong hand at his local meeting on Saturday, led by a trio of fillies in the Seaton Park 3YO (1400m).

Sharrock will line-up juvenile stakes winner London Express (NZ) (Shamexpress), and promising gallopers Akerra (NZ) (Ekraar) and Penelope Cruise (NZ) (Ocean Park) in the three-year-old contest.

Akerra is proving an exciting prospect, having won on debut at Awapuni in May and stormed home late to finish runner-up over 1200m at the same track earlier this month, beating stablemate London Express into third. Full story here

Pacorus (NZ) (Tavistock)

Wood quartet sharpened for Te Rapa

Cambridge trainer Chris Wood has four runners engaged at the Waikato Racing Club's meeting at Te Rapa on Saturday, headlined by nine-time race winner Pacorus (NZ) (Tavistock).

The seven-year-old gelding has been disappointing in three runs this preparation, but Wood is hoping some alternative therapy might be able to get him back on track.

NEWS IN BRIEF

"He hasn't really fired this time in to be honest," Wood said. "But I've had a little bit of acupuncture work done on him this week and he just had a few little niggles so hopefully that helps things. Full story here

Count Me In (NZ) (Showcasing)

Kok's 2YO draws out, harder to Count on

Many were taken by Showcasing two-year-old Count Me In's (NZ) debut win three weeks ago, including trainer David Kok, but the horror gate in Friday's S$250,000 Golden Horseshoe (1200m) has put a major dent in the camp's confidence.

The colt has drawn 16 from 18 (likely to drop to 14 after scratchings), clearly not the best spot to break from for a horse who showed an abundance of speed at his first Kranji run when only Try Mak Mak (NZ) (Makfi) proved faster and led. Count Me In eased off into the box-seat before powering home.

From Day One, Kok had a good hunch he had a smart sort under the roof. The fifth and final Leg of the Singapore Golden Horseshoe series would be a good race to aim for Count Me In if he performs to expectations. Full story here

Mr Malek is Azzopardi's Derby week special

Jockey Joseph Azzopardi couldn't be happier with the way things have unfolded at his first Singapore stint - even if it's not been all beer and skittles at times.

The young Perth jockey flew the lids at his first couple of months with a strike rate hovering around the 20 percent area, but a one-month suspension for foul riding aboard Per Inpower (NZ) (Per Incanto) back in April put a spoke in the wheel.

Azzopardi has kept the flow of winners going upon his return from the sidelines, even if the intensity has dropped off a notch or two. Though he can't complain with the support he is garnering, he feels he is just warming the saddle at times.

What he said he needed was a good horse, not for a run or two, but right through. Friday's debuting two-year-old Mr Malek (NZ) (Swiss Ace) might be the one, he thinks.

Callsign Mav (NZ) (Atlante)

First winner for Atlante

The ill-fated Atlante sired his first winner at Hastings on Thursday when Callsign Mav (NZ) took out the NZB Insurance Pearl Series Race (800m).

"It was good to get it done, he is still quite green. Once he changed legs with 100m to go he did it nicely," trainer John Bary said.

Bary, who has fashioned a strong record with juveniles this season, was pleased with his two-year-old heading into the race after a couple of nice jumpout performances. Full story here

Petrachor (NZ) (Redwood)

Winning double for Matamata debutants

The Matamata training partnership of Michael Moroney and Pam Gerard secured an early double with a pair of debutants at Hastings on Saturday.

Redwood filly Petrachor (NZ) was the first on the board for Ballymore Stables, winning the Carrfields Primary Wool/Carrfields Livestock 1200.

The three-year-old was pushed forward from her outside barrier of 12 by jockey Cameron Lammas to settle outside leader Kate Louise (NZ) (Swiss Ace).

She took the lead at the top of the straight and held on to secure a half-neck win over Chosen Peak (NZ) (Redoute's Choice), with a further half-length back to One Way Street (NZ) Street Boss) in third. Full story here

Saone (NZ) (Burgundy)

Staying future for Burgundy filly

Kiwi import Saone (NZ) (Burgundy) broke maiden ranks in impressive style on Tuesday when winning over 1400m at the Ballarat Synthetic meeting.

Prepared from the Warrnambool base of Western Australian trainer Lindsey Smith, the daughter of Burgundy had previously run third on debut at Bendigo where she produced slick closing sectionals after being forced to travel wide from barrier 16.

Despite resenting the kick-back from the newly laid synthetic surface, Saone motored home once angled into the clear by jockey Dean Yendall. Full story here

The smart victories bookended the nine-race programme at the Victorian track.

Hapaira (NZ) (Darci Brahma) opened the day with a five-length win in the Horsham Doors & Glass Maiden Plate (1100m), then Cataracta (NZ) (Niagara) romped to victory by six lengths in the CHS Group Horsham BM58 Handicap (1100m). Both horses are trained by Ciaran Maher and David Eustace, and the winning jockeys were Harry Coffey and Linda Meech respectively.

The Dundeel gelding joins an esteemed honour role of top racehorses selected by Rutten, which includes Champion New Zealand Two-Year-Old of his year Vespa (NZ) (Elusive City), Karaka Million 2YO (1200m) placegetters Touche (NZ) (Thorn Park) and Kingsman (NZ) (Darci Brahma), and last year's Karaka Million 3YO Classic (1600m) winner Scott Base (NZ) (Dalghar). ### Te Akau stars trial to script

Reigning New Zealand Horse of the Year, Melody Belle (NZ) (Commands), resumed at the Te Rapa trials on Monday with a close-up third over 900m behind stablemate Ritzy Sparkle (NZ) (Pins) for trainer Jamie Richards.

Ridden by Troy Harris, the performance pleased connections as the six-time Group One winner returns to fitness ahead of a spring campaign that will commence in the Gr.2 U.S. Navy Flag Foxbridge Plate (1200m) at Te Rapa on August 17.

"She finished third under no pressure whatsoever," managing owner, John Galvin, of Fortuna Syndications, said. Full story here

Horowhenua horseman Chris Rutten has confirmed the sale of dual Group One winning two-year-old, Yourdeel (NZ) (Dundeel), to Hong Kong.

Prepared by Te Akau Racing's Jamie Richards, Yourdeel fashioned an impressive record of four wins and two placings from his six juvenile starts for Rutten and fellow

Jackfrost (NZ) (Gallant Guru)

Jackfrost retired

Top jumper Jackfrost's (NZ) (Gallant Guru) racing career has come to an abrupt end after suffering an injury in Australia.

The Brian and Shane Anderton-trained gelding was preparing for an Australian jumps campaign, but will now return home to undergo rehabilitation in preparation for an alternative career.

"He's done his suspensory," Brian Anderton said. "The vet said he would want 12 months and he didn't think he would come back as a jumper." Full story here

Lammas so close to icing on season's cake

Cameron Lammas is in the final stages of his most successful season as a jockey, but it could have been even better.

The Rotorua-based horseman, who travels regularly to Matamata to ride trackwork, has earned $1,564,808 in prizemoney and is currently sitting fifth on the New Zealand Jockeys' Premiership, the highest position he has held since his career began in 2001-02.

It's the most stakemoney the 35-year-old has earned in a season, slightly eclipsing last season's tally, and his 68 wins includes six Group or Listed wins (the same as last season). Full story here

Final flight for Errol Skelton

New Zealand racing is set to farewell another member of the Skelton family with the sudden death of Errol Bryan Skelton.

Skelton, just a month short of his 82nd birthday, passed away last Friday at home in Levin.

The five Skelton brothers – Bill, Frank, Bob, Errol and Max – are synonymous with New Zealand racing, original West Coasters hailing from Cobden in Greymouth and all enjoying success as jockeys, though Errol's main highlights came as a trainer. Full story here

The Central Districts has lost one of its most likeable characters with the passing of start attendant Brian "Monk" Peta.

The 63-year-old suffered a heart attack at Trentham racecourse on Saturday and passed away on Sunday night at Lower Hutt hospital.

His loss will be felt by many within the racing community, with his cheeky grin and jovial character having met jockeys at the starting gates for several decades. Full story here
