BIG CALOUNDRA TRACK SUITS TERRA SANCTA

Terra Sancta returns to her favourite Australian track at the Sunshine Coast this weekend

Terra Sancta (NZ) (Pierro) returns to her favourite Australian track at the Sunshine Coast this weekend as she strives to end a run of outs.

Terra Sancta will be having her fourth start for the Queensland winter carnival in Saturday's Listed Caloundra Cup (2400m).

The mare has not won since June last year when successful at the Sunshine Coast but she has been placed several times in New Zealand since.

Trainer Tony Pike, who claimed two Group One wins with The Bostonian (NZ) (Jimmy Choux) during the carnival, felt Terra Sancta was racing well enough for another tilt at a Queensland feature.

She has failed to run a place since arriving but has been solid in all her starts including her last run when sixth in the Listed Ipswich Cup (2150m) last Saturday week.

"She just didn't seem to get around Ipswich and looked unbalanced for much of the race," Pike said.

"She really didn't seem to get going until it was too late with the short straight."

Pike believed the run was still good enough for Terra

Sancta to continue into the winter.

"This will be the first time she has got back on a big track this campaign. She has won both her starts at the Sunshine Coast," he said.

"Both those runs were on wet tracks so the conditions on Saturday should be no problem.

"Jim Byrne rode her in the Ipswich Cup and was keen to stick with her."

Pike said if Terra Sancta raced well she would head to next month's Listed Grafton Cup (2350m).

"Sacred Day will be in the Grafton Cup and if Terra Sancta pulls up well from Saturday she can go there as well," Pike said.

The trainer has been back in New Zealand overseeing his big team at Cambridge but is already earmarking horses for next winter.

"The last few years in Brisbane have been good so we will be back for sure," he said.

DROPS OF JUPITER SHOOTS FOR THE STARS AT RUAKAKA

There will be an air of excitement at Ruakaka on Saturday when Drops of Jupiter (NZ) (Echoes of Heaven) makes his debut in the Racing Sunday August 11 (1600m).

The three-year-old son of Echoes of Heaven is a half-brother to Kiwi-bred Hong Kong superstar Beauty Generation (NZ) (Road To Rock), who is currently the highest rated active racehorse in the world.

A winner of seven Group One races, including the Hong Kong International Mile (1600m) and Champions Mile (1600m) for the past two years, and on a nine-race winning streak, Beauty Generation is considered a formality to defend his crown as Hong Kong Horse of the Year next month.

So Drops of Jupiter has big horseshoes to fit into.

“He’s got a lot to live up to with his half-brother’s reputation but we’re not going to get carried away,” said

Bradley, who co-owns the gelding and trains him in partnership with Chris Gibbs at Ruakaka.

“We’d be rapt if he was finishing the race off well and running in the first five.”

Bradley has been involved with Drops Of Jupiter’s story right from the beginning. She was working for Donna Logan when the Ruakaka trainer bought Bel Esprit mare Stylish Bel for $110,000 at the Karaka yearling sales in 2007.

Unplaced in her only trial and unraced, Logan’s partner Peter Woods and John Brown leased Stylish Bel for two of her first three matings, including the Road To Rock mating which produced Beauty Generation for Christchurch breeder Greg Tomlinson.

Woods later bought out Brown's share and bred Echoes Of Heaven colt Drops Of Jupiter and a Tavistock filly before selling Stylish Bel to Rosemont Stud.

Bradley weaned Drops Of Jupiter and did a lot of the early work with the now gelding and Woods rewarded her with a 10 percent share.

She's been delighted with his progress leading up to Saturday's debut but said he was still not the finished product.

"We've taken our time with him. We don't need to be doing too much with him at this stage. He's still immature and hasn't shown us a lot at the trials," Bradley said.

"He can really gallop. We've seen that in his trackwork but he's been a horse that has just needed time. Every time we put him out, he gets stronger and bigger. We still have to take our time with him and let him mature."

With six trials under his belt, including a win over 1400m at Avondale last month, Drops Of Jupiter gets his chance to shine on raceday this weekend, with instructions for Jonathan Riddell to ride him positively from barrier one.

"You watch Beauty Generation's pattern of racing and he's the same. He's always up there but he's going to take a bit of riding on Jonathan's part to keep him up to his work," Bradley said.

Bradley and Gibbs will also saddle Chapeau (NZ) (Denman) and Mi Sky (NZ) (Stravinsky) in the same race as part of a team of 17 runners on their home track on the day.

Hello It's Me (NZ) (Darci Brahma) and Rikki Tikki Tavi (NZ) (Tavistock) give the stable a strong hand in the feature Northpine Waipu Cup (1400m).

"Rikki Tikki Tavi was just a bit slow away here last time so we've taken the visor blinkers off and she's stepping up to 1400m so we're excited about what she can do," Bradley said.

"Hello It's Me is in fantastic order. She was down in the Waikato on the water-walker at Kendayla Park for the first part of her preparation. She's fresh-up in a strong race and 1400m might be a bit sharp for her but she looks magnificent and we couldn't be happier with her."

HOW TOUGH IS SHAMAL?

Only Ken Duncan really knows just how tough Shamal (NZ) (Zabeel) is.

And that's not just the courage the Zabeel eight-year-old gelding showed during his recovery from a tendon injury that threatened his career as a four-year-old.

Or the tenacity he displayed in grinding out a win over subsequent Manawatu Steeplechase (4200m) winner Gagarin (NZ) (Pentire) when he claimed the Waikato Steeplechase (3900m) at Te Rapa last month when not fully fit.

"They don't get any tougher," the Hunterville sheep farmer and trainer said when describing the $2.70 fixed-odds favourite for Saturday's AHD Hawke's Bay Steeplechase (4800) at Hastings.

"He'll bite you and kick you as quick as look at you. You've got to keep on going down to buy a new Kathmandu jacket because he keeps ripping it off you."

Fortunately though, Shamal is keeping Duncan in new jackets with a string of performances that has resulted in the steeplechaser's rise to the top echelon of jumpers in the country.

In the past 12 months, he has won the Manawatu Steeplechase (4000m), run later last year at Trentham, the Grand National Steeplechase (5600m) at Riccarton, finished third in the Great Northern Steeplechase (6300m) at Te Aroha, and won both the Ken and Roger Browne Memorial Steeplechase (3900m) and Waikato Steeplechase (3900m) in two starts back this winter.

Shamal will look to add the Hawke's Bay Steeplechase to his impressive career record at Hastings on Saturday

"It was a huge effort in the Waikato Steeplechase. I didn't think he was 100 percent fit that day either and I looked at Gagarin and I knew he was ready to go - and he's gone on and won the Manawatu Steeplechase since which tells you something," Duncan said.

"It was massive and it was so exciting because he just dug down so deep. It just shows how tough he is."

A jumper with a preference for a slow track or at least footing on the best side of heavy, Shamal goes into Saturday's Hawke's Bay Steeplechase on a Slow7 surface having not raced for six weeks since his prestige Te Rapa win.

"I've freshened him up. The tracks were never going to suit for those races he missed anyway," Duncan said.

"I really wasn't going to start at Hastings either but I can't afford to miss a good track like that. Wellington and Christchurch are coming up and I could have saved him for those and got bog tracks and he won't go as well.

"I'll give him a go at those races (Wellington Steeplechase over 5500m at Trentham on July 13 and Grand National Steeplechase at Riccarton on August 10) anyway because they are big races and we'll take our chances.

"It's a pretty good field on Saturday but that's what you expect. We're in it to win. He's pretty right so no excuses."

Duncan also has Grandiscoccymelums (NZ) (Istidaad) entered in the maiden steeplechase at Hastings and Eion (NZ) (Man of Power) in the restricted open hurdle at Wingatui on Friday.

Duncan said a wither issue has Grandiscoccymelums as a doubtful starter but said Eion had "a touch of class" and would be competitive at the Otago meeting.

Sacred Croix (NZ) (Savabeel)

Sacred Croix has Stewards' Cup and Derby in crosshairs

After a closing second in Singapore's Silver Bowl three weeks ago, Sacred Croix (NZ) (Savabeel) will be bidding to go one better in the $5400,000 Stewards' Cup (1600m) on Sunday.

The inaugural Silver Bowl (1400m) is the new first leg of the Singapore Four-Year-Old Challenge, replacing the Stewards' Cup, which has been lengthened up to a mile and is now slated as the second Leg towards the grand final, the Singapore Derby (1800m) on July 21.

A son of Savabeel, Sacred Croix came with a searching run under regular partner Benny Woodworth in the Silver Bowl, but Cliff Brown's mare What's New (NZ) (Casino Prince) had the first run and prevailed till the end. Full story here

Borninasandpit (NZ) (Istidaad)

Gillies on a winning roll

Cambridge jumps jockey Mathew Gillies has been enjoying a great run of form in recent weeks.

On Sunday the 33-year-old notched his first winner as both trainer and jockey when Borninasandpit (NZ) (Istidaad), who he trains in partnership with Graham Thomas, was successful at Te Aroha.

"It was my first ride on a horse I train too so it was really good," Gillies said. Full story here

Flying Quest (NZ) (Alamosa)

Quest flies to the win

Flying Quest (NZ) (Alamosa) arrowed wide down the home straight at Happy Valley on Wednesday to land the night's trophy contest, the Class 3 Manawatu Racing Club Challenge Trophy Handicap (1650m).

The David Hall-trained galloper flopped out of gate nine and was soon four lengths detached at the tail with Matthew Poon scrubbing him along. But, up ahead, race favourite Win Win (NZ) (Casino Prince) had pushed through a sharp first section of 27.58s to secure the lead and followed with a second sectional of 23.10s. That was all to the victor's advantage when it mattered.

"It would have to be all about the tempo, of course," Hall said after the son of Alamosa had charged from last at the top of the straight to seal a three quarter-length score with a closing 400m clocked at 22.71s.

"I thought he genuinely had a chance in the race, his last run was solid and he had a light weight," Hall continued. "With the draw, he was always going to be back but I didn't expect him to be that far back, then when you see how the time of the race was, obviously he couldn't keep up early and that's why he was able to win the race.

"He's had a great season and now he's topped it off with a nice cup race, so happy days." -HKJC

Bedford returns to winning ways at Sandown

Five-year-old Bedford (NZ) (Tavistock) has snapped a lengthy absence from the winner's circle with a dominant display on a heavy track at Sandown.

The Anthony Freedman-trained gelding showed his promise with back-to-back 2000m-wins at Caulfield during the early part of 2018 and was considered a Doomben Cup prospect when he finished a close fourth in a Listed race in Brisbane on heavy ground in April that year.

Bedford (NZ) (Tavistock)

After a winless 2018 spring and two unplaced runs so far this campaign, Bedford dropped back in class and bounced back to winning ways in Wednesday's Long Fine Plate (1800m) under Jamie Mott.

Bedford drew away over the final 300m to beat Our Peaky Blinders (NZ) (Sir Percy) by 3-3/4 lengths with Travimyfriend (NZ) (Tavistock) another three quarters of a length away third.

"It's good to see him back doing that," assistant trainer Sam Freedman said.

"We were fairly confident today. He was back to 78 grade and these soft conditions, he has run well before in the Tails Stakes up in Queensland.

"He lost his way a bit for a while but we really think we've got him back on track.

"He's shown promise. It's just you've got to have him in the right mental frame of mind.

"And today he was perfect."

Stakes task ahead for 2YO winner

Vibrato (NZ) (Sacred Falls) shook off his rivals at Rotorua on Wednesday to score a comfortable victory in the At Cook Contraction 2YO (1230m).

The son of Sacred Falls led from the jump under a steady ride from Jonathan Riddell and strode away from his only challenger, Elliot Power (NZ) (Power), to win by two and a half lengths.

The Murray Baker and Andrew Forsman-trained Vibrato was having his second career start, with Forsman saying the conditions at Ellerslie earlier this month did not suit the two-year-old gelding.

"He didn't have any favours that day," Forsman said.

"He drew wide and was caught off the track and probably going right-handed he just got a little bit lost.

"Once he found the front today, and the rail, it was a big help."

Forsman indicated they would now consider a start in the Listed Ryder Stakes (1200m) at Otaki on July 27.

"It was what we were talking about pre-race (the Ryder Stakes)," Forsman said.

"I said if he handles the ground it is probably a race you have to consider. It is certainly a good option to have.

"I think the Sacred Falls are really coming along and they will be coming into their own over the next few months."

Vibrato is the second winner for four-time Group One winner Sacred Falls and is raced by David Seldon and his father Bob.

Seldon purchased the gelding as a yearling at Karaka for $45,000 from the draft of Waikato Stud.

Seldon is one of the principals of the Australian branch of American horse feed company, Performance Horse Nutrition, and he supplies feed to the Baker-Forsman stable.

Collett sets his sights on Gold

Fresh from landing an overdue Group One win, Jason Collett will look to keep his momentum rolling at Rosehill where he has a strong book of nine rides for eight different trainers.

Collett was widely considered the best jockey in Australia not to have won at the elite level before he finally got his moment in the sun at Eagle Farm last Saturday when he guided the Chris Waller-trained Invincibella (I Am Invincible) to victory in the Tattersall's Tiara.

It was a moment to savour for the hoop, who said the breakthrough brought a mixture of excitement and relief.

"It was what I'd been working towards and I finally achieved it," Collett said.

There has not been much time to celebrate with Collett riding at Hawkesbury, Randwick and Kembla Grange midweek and that will not quieten down this weekend - he is booked for rides in all nine races at Rosehill.

His mounts include Nicci's Gold (Nicconi) for trainer Gary Portelli in the Listed Civic Stakes (1350m) with the mare earning a shot at stakes grade after a strong come-from-behind win at Rosehill earlier this month.

"It's a step up on Saturday and she's probably not the best weighted horse, but in saying that I don't think it looks an overly strong Civic Stakes and a heavy to soft track is really going to benefit her. She relishes that sort of going," Collett said.

"She's worked her way to that level and now she gets her opportunity to try to get a stakes win for her page."

Sacred Elixir (NZ) (Pour Moi)

Sacred Elixir back in New Zealand

Group One winner Sacred Elixir (NZ) (Pour Moi) returned to New Zealand from his former Hong Kong base on Wednesday morning and a scan has revealed positive signs that the injured son of Pour Moi will make a raceday return in his homeland.

Formerly trained in New Zealand by Cambridge conditioner Tony Pike, Sacred Elixir won three Group races for owners Raffles Racing, including the Gr.1 JJ Atkins Stakes (1600m), and finished runner-up to Prized Icon in the Gr.1 Victoria Derby (2500m) before joining Tony Cruz's Hong Kong barn in 2017.

He was ridden in all three of his Hong Kong starts by Hong Kong champion jockey Zac Purton, however, a mishap in his third race spelt the end of his career in the Asian racing jurisdiction. Full story here

Robbie Hannam

Hannam hails standout season

Central Districts jockey Robert Hannam hasn't let a delay to his New Zealand racing season hinder him from setting a record tally of stakes wins this term.

The likeable hoop spent the early part of this season in India, where he was finishing off a four-month contract, which was halted in 2017 after he sustained a broken ankle after a starting gate incident.

He returned to New Zealand in October and wasted no time in getting on the board, recording five stakes wins to date this season, an all-time best for Hannam, and nearly $1 million in prizemoney. Full story here

Broodmare's unretirement works wonders for Pencarrow

Pencarrow Stud's decision to bring a broodmare out of retirement has been spectacularly rewarded by the dual black-type winner Sleeping Beauty (NZ) (Rip Van Winkle).

NEWS IN BRIEF

Sleeping Beauty (NZ) (Rip Van Winkle)

The Rip Van Winkle six-year-old mastered the gruelling conditions for a dominant victory in Saturday's Listed Ultimate Ford and Mazda Tauranga Classic (1400m), having also taken out the Gr.3 Rotorua Stakes (1400m) at her previous start.

Sleeping Beauty is the tenth and final foal out of the Danehill mare Kailey Princess. Full story here

Te Akau Shark set to target Sydney Group One

The Gr.1 Cox Plate (2040m) has been a long held ambition for connections of dual Group winner Te Akau Shark (NZ) (Rip Van Winkle), but the Jamie Richards-trained runner is being set for another Group One target before he heads to Melbourne.

The four-year-old son of Rip Van Winkle drew gasps from the crowd when winning the Gr.2 Coupland's Bakeries Mile (1600m) by six lengths in November and the exciting galloper is being set for a big spring.

Te Akau Shark was given a lengthy spell after pulling up with a few soreness issues after his Riccarton triumph and Te Akau Principal David Ellis said his team is pleased with what they have seen since his return last month. Full story here

Jackfrost (NZ) (Gallant Guru)

Jackfrost in Ballarat

Exciting Wingatui jumper Jackfrost (NZ) (Gallant Guru) has arrived safely in Victoria to begin an assault on some of the major events.

With the full backing of the large group of owners, trainers Brian and Shane Anderton have opted to give Jackfrost his opportunity to measure up in Melbourne with the eight-year-old having proved himself at the top level in New Zealand when winning the Grand National Hurdles (4200m) and the Great Northern Hurdle (4200m) last winter.

"He got to Ballarat on Saturday," Brian Anderton said. "Courtney Barnes has gone over to look after him and Shane will go over a bit later on. The horse has to school first over there and he'll do that on July 4.

"We will confirm his programme after that but we are now giving some thought to maybe going for both Grand Nationals over there. But we'll just see how he handles the fences in his schooling first."

Top jumps jockey Steve Pateman has expressed interest in riding Jackfrost, who has been readied for his Melbourne campaign with three flat runs and a last-start second over hurdles at Wingatui when narrowly beaten after recovering from both a first fence scare and a mistake at the last fence.

Spring targets beckon Wyndspelle

Otaki trainers John Benner and Hollie Wynyard are hoping to ditch the bridesmaids tag with their consistent galloper Wyndspelle (NZ) (Iffraaj) next season.

The five-year-old entire recorded two runner-up performances at Group One level this season and a further placing in the Gr.1 Windsor Park Plate (1600m) in September, and they believe he can breakthrough at elite level next term.

"He was triple Group One placed, he probably should have won the Anniversary (Gr.3, 1600m) as well, he was pretty unlucky," Benner said. Full story here

Aalaalune (NZ) (Reliable Man)

Classic season spoils beckon Aalaalune

Group One performed juvenile Aalaalune (NZ) (Reliable Man) has given Matamata trainer Jacob McKay plenty of excitement this season and he believes she can go on to better things in her Classic year.

The two-year-old daughter of Reliable Man contested six races this season, all at stakes-level, placing in three of them, including a short-margin runner-up performance behind Yourdeel (NZ) (Dundeel) in the Gr.1 Sistema Stakes (1200m) at Ellerslie in March.

McKay was delighted with her season after initially thinking she wouldn't show her best until she was a three-year-old. Full story here

Westbury launch Gamechanger initiative

Westbury Stud have developed two acceleration programmes to attract and retain talent in the thoroughbred industry.

The initiative will recognise and inspire personal growth by creating career pathways and building skills and experience.

The Gamechanger programme will award an existing Westbury Stud staff member with a 12-month programme where they will spend time in each of the farm's departments before travelling overseas to a sister stud in the northern hemisphere.

The Westbury Cadet programme will target school leavers and those new to the industry. The successful candidate will spend six months with Westbury where they will be exposed to all aspects of stud life, gaining valuable skills and work experience.

At the conclusion of the programme a permanent position will be offered to suitable graduates.

"It is important to encourage and grow people in this industry," Westbury Stud General Manager Russell Warwick said.

"We're committed to giving our employees every opportunity to develop their passion for thoroughbreds, develop a high-quality and multi-skill set, and develop a life-long career."

Chris Luoni

Changing of the guard at NZ Racing Hall of Fame

Chris Luoni, the driving force behind the establishment of the New Zealand Racing Hall of Fame, is stepping down as Chairman after serving seven years in the post but will continue as a director.

"Chris was the catalyst behind establishing the Racing Hall of Fame," past Chairman and director Gerald Fell said.

"I was the first Chairman of the Hall of Fame and between us we drove the development of it.

"I retired and Chris took over, and it has just got stronger and stronger."

The biannual event, which was first held in 2006, will next take place in May 2020.

Stepping into the Chairperson role is Cherry Taylor, co-owner of Trelawney Stud and manager of her insurance company C N Taylor Consulting. Taylor brings a wealth of knowledge of the thoroughbred industry and has extensive experience as a member of several other boards and committees.

"We are very happy that Cherry is coming on board," Fell said. "We are very pleased to have someone as enthusiastic as she is."

Marie Leicester has recently been named as patron. Leicester, a successful owner-breeder, stepped down as a director of the New Zealand Racing Hall of Fame earlier this year and was invited to become the patron to recognise her massive contribution over the last 12 years.
