PRINCESS JENNI CHASING RARE DOUBLE

Princess Jenni will be out to complete a rare double when she tackles the Gr.1 Queensland Oaks on Saturday

Princess Jenni (NZ) (High Chaparral) will be out to etch her name in Gr.1 Queensland Oaks (2200m) history as only the second filly to complete the Australasian Oaks-Queensland Oaks double.

Six fillies have attempted to complete the rare double but only one, the Chris Waller-trained Egg Tart (Sebring), was successful when she claimed the 2017 Queensland Oaks.

Princess Jenni's trainer David Brideoake rarely heads north for the winter carnival but is confident of a breakthrough Group One win in Queensland.

"I won the (Listed) Ipswich Cup a few years ago with Self Sense and I also sent up Dance With Her who ran second in the (Group 2) Brisbane Cup in 2012," he said.

Brideoake's decision to head to Adelaide for the Australasian Oaks was a late call after the daughter of High Chaparral missed the Gr.1 Australian Oaks (2400m) at Randwick when she was a late scratching from the Gr.3 Adrian Knox Stakes (2000m) at Randwick in April.

"She's done really well and she even put on a bit of weight after her Oaks win in Adelaide," Brideoake said.

"She had her main gallop last Friday and another on Tuesday and she flew up late yesterday.

"She showed a lot of grit and determination to win at Caulfield two runs back when she came from back in the field with 60kgs.

"She's got a lot of class and after the Queensland Oaks I plan to give her a light spring campaign in Melbourne."

Damien Oliver retains the ride on Princess Jenni and they have drawn barrier nine in Saturday's feature.

SYDNEY STAKES TEST FOR OUR BIG MIKE

(Our) Big Mike has his sights set on the Listed WJ McKell Cup (2400m) at Rosehill on Saturday

Our Big Mike (Don Eduardo) had a successful summer campaign in Australia late last year and his connections are hoping to replicate those results in the coming month.

The Craig and Shaun Phelan-trained gelding placed in two runs in Melbourne before winning the Listed Pakenham Cup (2500m) in December and he could add another stakes win to his tally when he lines-up in the Listed WJ McKell Cup (2400m) at Rosehill on Saturday.

The son of Don Eduardo arrived in Sydney on Monday night and Shaun Phelan said he has settled in well to his new surroundings at Jim and Greg Lee's Randwick stables.

"He seems all good and is bright enough. We are happy with the way he has settled in."

Our Big Mike was disappointing when tailing the field home two starts back in the Gr.2 Easter Handicap (1600m) at Ellerslie, but a 3-1/4 length victory over 2100m at Te Rapa earlier this month was enough to secure his ticket across the Tasman.

"It was a bit of a mishap of going too hard out in front in a good race on a hard track (in the Easter Handicap)," Phelan said. "I think he just looked after himself."

"At Te Rapa he covered our reason to bring him over to Australia. We knew we were on the right track with him."

The six-year-old gelding will jump from barrier five on Saturday with expat New Zealand jockey Sam Weatherley aboard. Phelan is happy with his charge heading into the race, however, he is hoping the predicted rain will arrive before the weekend.

“He was pretty fit before he came over here, all our track fitness work has been done at home, so it’s just a matter of keeping him ticking over and happy over here, and he seems well,” he said.

“Barrier five is the perfect draw for him. We are expecting a bit of rain before the weekend, which would be good for us. The sting out of the ground would be ideal for him.

“I’m pretty confident heading into Saturday, I don’t know too much about the form, but we know our horse is ready and we think it’s the right race for him.”

Our Big Mike is likely to have two further runs in Australia, with Phelan hoping to cap off his campaign with a trip north to the Sunshine State.

“We would have liked to have got to Brisbane with him, but the flights weren’t right for us,” Phelan said. “We won’t be able to back him up in the Brisbane Cup (Gr.2, 2400m), I think it will be too soon.

“There is a race here in two weeks called the Winter Cup

(Listed, 2400m) and there’s also races like the Caloundra Cup (Listed, 2400m), so we might get him up there (Queensland) later on.

“He had four runs in Melbourne last time and the further we got in the trip the better he went and we would like to get him up to that better weather in Brisbane if we can.”

Our Big Mike was joined on his flight to Sydney by former stablemate Notabadidea (NZ) (Highly Recommended), who has transferred to Randwick trainers Jim and Greg Lee.

“Notabadidea has travelled over with him, but he is actually changing over to (Jim and) Greg Lee because there are no ideal races for him in New Zealand,” Phelan said.

“There are so many options for a horse like that over here. The same owners have got Notabadharada over here with them and he raced in the Wanganui Guineas (Listed, 1340m) with Notabadidea and he has come over here and has won two or three races and is running around for good money.

“It’s hard to compete with that in New Zealand. Notabadidea is a three-year-old who wants further than 1600m and there’s no races left for him.”

NEWS IN BRIEF

Red Sierra (NZ) (Redwood)

Red Sierra primed for Wanganui challenge

The David and Emma Haworth-trained Red Sierra (NZ) (Redwood) won on the undercard of the Listed Ag Challenge Stakes (1600m) last year and the five-year-old mare will be vying to add the coveted race to her resume at Wanganui on Saturday.

The daughter of Redwood has been in good form this preparation, finishing runner-up in both of her starts, including the Listed Rangitikei Gold Cup (1600m) earlier this month.

"She didn't get a lot of luck in her first start, she had to squeeze up in-between horses and finished off pretty well. 1400m was probably a bit short for her as well," Emma Haworth said. Full story here

Helena Baby (NZ) (Guillotine)

Bell team firing ahead of Ellerslie racing

Cambridge trainer John Bell will head to Ellerslie on Saturday aiming to extend his winning run.

Hot on the heels of producing Noble Star (NZ) (Commands) and Ata Rangi (NZ) (Haradasun) for wins at Te Rapa on Wednesday, Bell will saddle Yorkshire Dales (Vale of York), Helena Baby (NZ) (Guillotine) and Epa Road (NZ) (Red Giant) at Ellerslie as he looks to capitalise on a roll that has seen him win five races from his last 18 runners.

"Things are going well for us. We've got magnificent riders and our staff are experienced and dedicated. Hard work and dedication is coming to fruition," said Bell, enjoying his best season as a trainer to date with 14 wins." Full story here

Gobstopper (NZ) (Tavistock)

Queensland target on the cards for Gobstopper

Quality stayer Gobstopper (NZ) (Tavistock) could be set for a trip across the Tasman if he performs well this weekend.

The Andrew Campbell-trained gelding, who is entered for both Ellerslie and Wanganui meetings on Saturday, returned to form last start when runner-up to Zacada (NZ) (Zabeel) in the Gr.3 Rotorua Cup (2200m).

The Gr.3 New Zealand Cup (3200m) winner had been out of form since his win in the feature two mile race in 2017 and Campbell was delighted to see his gelding back to his best earlier this month. Full story here

He Kin Fly (NZ) (Darci Brahma)

Ridley duo set for season finale

Trainer Neill Ridley has a strong hand in the Gavelhouse.com (1200m) at his home track of Riccarton on Friday.

Ridley prepares the two top-weights of the open handicap field, He Kin Fly (NZ) (Darci Brahma) (60kg) and Prince Oz (NZ) (O'Reilly) (58kg).

"Both Prince Oz and He Kin Fly have been going pretty well, but this will be their last run for the season and then they'll be going out in the paddock," Ridley said. Full story here

Medalza (Medaglia D'Oro)

Marsh scores early double at Te Rapa

Three-year-old filly Medalza (Medaglia D'Oro) secured an early double for trainer Stephen Marsh at Te Rapa on Wednesday.

The daughter of Medaglia D'oro took out the Website Angels 1200, just after stablemate Mrs Rumble (NZ) (Super Easy) had won the opening race on the card.

Jumping from an awkward barrier of 11, Medalza was kept three-wide for the journey, with jockey Samantha Collett electing to stay out on the better footing.

Collett was able to navigate Medalza into a gap with 250m to go, where she was able to show a good turn of foot to win by a length over Wondering (NZ) (Iffraaj), with a further nose back to Tumbriel (NZ) (Guillotine) in third.

Marsh was pleased with the first-up win by his filly and he believes she has strengthened since her last preparation.

Medalza headed into Wednesday off the back of two runner-up trial performances and Marsh said her wide barrier was his only concern heading into the race.

"Her trials have been outstanding, she was second in both of them," he said. "She has always shown us a fair bit, but she has just been weak and hasn't quite finished her races off."

NEWS IN BRIEF

"She raced in blinkers last prep and we have taken them off. The only concern was the draw, but it was a really good effort and she won well."

Collett had ridden Medalza in her trials and was pleased to have retained the ride on raceday after being impressed with the filly.

"I rode her at the trials and I was really happy with the feel she gave me that day," she said.

"(With the wide barrier) it worked out that I was able to stay out of the horrible stuff on the inside.

"She was brave, halfway up the straight there was a gap for her, but she really had to pull her head out to do it and she was strong to the line."

Roaring Lion

in both New Zealand and Australia was immediate and we are now closing his book," Cambridge Stud chief executive Henry Plumtre said.

"Bringing champion racehorses of the calibre of Roaring Lion and Almanzor into New Zealand, to stand alongside our champion international sire Tavistock, at very competitive service fees is a key component of our business model. Full story here

(The) Bostonian (NZ) (Jimmy Choux)

The Bostonian aiming at slice of history

Kiwi sprinter The Bostonian (NZ) (Jimmy Choux) made it back-to-back Group One wins in clinical fashion when winning Saturday's Gr.1 Kingsford-Smith Cup (1300m) at Eagle Farm and has duly been installed the $5 favourite for the Gr.1 Stradbroke Handicap (1400m) as he looks to create history.

No horse has ever won the Doomben 10,000-Kingsford Smith Cup (formerly BTC Cup) -Stradbroke Group One treble, but the Tony Pike-trained four-year-old is in peak condition and, like many New Zealanders, thriving in the Queensland sun.

The David Archer-owned gelding has been set a task by the handicapper and will carry the top-weight of 57kgs in the

A$1.5million feature, which would be the biggest winning weight in 27 years if he is to complete the first treble of Brisbane's Group One sprints. Full story here

Hypnos (NZ) (Reliable Man)

Delayed Australian stint for Hypnos

Smart Cambridge three-year-old Hypnos (NZ) (Reliable Man) is set to embark on a delayed Australian campaign, but with a change of direction.

The Gr.1 Levin Classic (1600m) runner-up will make his Australian debut in a three-year-old handicap over 1400m at Caulfield next Saturday.

The original plan for Hypnos was a Queensland campaign kicking off with a start in Saturday's Gr.3 Fred Best Classic (1400m) at Eagle Farm, but a poor fresh-up performance when tailing the field home in the Gr.3 Cambridge Breeders' Stakes (1200m) at Te Rapa late last month resulted in trainers Roger James and Robert Wellwood scrapping that plan. ### Waldorf Stages Hong Kong Hat-Trick

Highly Recommended's talented son Waldorf (NZ) completed a hat-trick of wins in Hong Kong last night and in doing so, aided jockey Joao Moreira to four wins on the Happy Valley race card.

"When we turned for home and I gave him two whacks I knew then, if he had no interruption, I was going to win," Moreira said.

Prior to his export to Tony Cruz's Hong Kong stable, Waldorf was a three-time winner in New Zealand for trainer Andrew Campbell, with feature wins registered in the Listed Ryder Stakes (1200m) and the Listed Wanganui Guineas (1340m).

Waldorf's sire Highly Recommended stands at Berkley Stud for $5000 plus GST in 2019.

NEWS IN BRIEF

It's only a 17km drive from their current Mystery Creek base, but the new property has a lot more to offer in terms of space, facilities and easy access to the hill gallop made famous by David's grandparents Ken and Ann Browne.

Luke Myers

Youngest Myers on a winning roll

Young Wanganui amateur rider Luke Myers will be out to keep up his winning streak when he heads to Ellerslie on Monday.

The 15-year-old has won both races in this year's Flair Amateur Riders' Championship and his father, Kevin, is in the process of finalising which of his stable runners he will ride in the third event in the series.

Myers' introduction to race riding was at the Grand National meeting last August when runner-up on Ave Maria (NZ) (Bachelor Duke). He later picked up a further second, on Merlot (NZ) (Roc de Cambes), at Te Aroha, before completing his first winter with yet another second on Ave Maria in the amateur riders' finale, the Duke Of Gloucester Cup at Te Aroha, behind stablemate Onewortheditch (NZ) (Elusive City). Savvy Coup (NZ) (Savabeel)

Kiwi mares in demand

New Zealand mare Savvy Coup (NZ) (Savabeel) was the subject of widespread interest on the Gold Coast on the opening day of the Magic Millions National Broodmare Sale.

The high-class daughter of Savabeel was supplemented into the auction and was purchased by Coolmore for A$1,000,000.

"She's a lovely type with a lot of quality," Tom Magnier said. "The team was very keen on her and she was bought for Justify. He'll get a tremendous book, we're very excited."

Savvy Coup was originally bought out of Waikato Stud's 2016 Karaka draft for $65,000.

Trained by Michael and Matthew Pitman, she won twice at Group One level and also claimed two Group Three events.

Other Kiwi mares to change hands included the Team Rogerson-trained Gift Of Power (NZ) (Power), who was purchased by Rosemont Stud in Victoria for A$800,000, the Baker-Forsman prepared stakes performers Marcellina (NZ) (Savabeel) (A$200,000) and Rubira (Lope de Vega) (A$100,000) and the Ken Rae and Krystal Williams-Tuhoro trained Group Three winner Prom Queen (NZ) (Super Easy) (A$190,000).

Debt Collector Australia bound

Multiple stakes winner and former

Debt Collector (NZ) (Thorn Park)

Singapore Horse of the Year Debt Collector (NZ) (Thorn Park) is set to head to Australia where he will join Jim Conlan's Pinecliff barn.

The former Cliff Brown-trained gelding finished fourth behind Hong Kong raider Southern Legend in the Kranji Mile (1600m) on Saturday and Brown has elected to test his charge in Australia.

"Cliff rang me a couple of weeks ago and was telling me the horse was having a few issues handling the conditions in Singapore," Conlan said.

"I've watched all his replays, he's obviously a fairly talented horse, but it's always a bit of a query how Singapore form will translate in Australia.

"But he's probably the best performed horse to come out of Singapore for a while. It will be exciting to see where he ends up."

Debt Collector was purchased by Brown out of Prima Park's 2014 New Zealand Bloodstock Ready to Run Sale draft for $120,000.

The son of Thorn Park has gone on to win 12 of his 24 starts in Singapore, including eight at stakes level and more than S$3.1 million in prizemoney.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Chequered Flag (NZ) (Raise The Flag)

Countofmontecristo (NZ) (Echoes Of Heaven)

Opie Bosson

Career in doubt for Chequered Flag

Last Sunday's Australian Hurdle (3900m) winner Chequered Flag (NZ) (Raise The Flag) is likely to have run his last race after emerging from the feature event with a serious joint injury.

Co-trainer Ciaran Maher, who prepares Chequered Flag in partnership with David Eustace, confirmed that the elite hurdler may not race again as he faced an operation and a long period of rehabilitation.

"He injured his joint which is a great shame," Maher said.

"But he's been a very good horse and there's a great group of guys in him so if he can't race on, I'm sure he'll be a good paddock mate or a nanny."

"He's such a nice horse."

A son of Raise The Flag, Chequered Flag began his career in New Zealand with Mark Brooks before transferring across the Tasman and he bows out of racing as the winner of $430,000 in prizemoney, with eight wins to his name and a further 19 placings.

His reputation as a hurdler grew again after he gamely beat fellow Kiwi import Killarney Kid (NZ) (Pendragon) at Sandown on Sunday to win the Australian Hurdle by two and three quarter lengths. Notably, there was 35 lengths to the third horse Lucques (High Chaparral).

Countofmontecristo jumps on the post-Kranji Mile Australia bandwagon

One day after it emerged that the Invitational Gr.1 Kranji Mile (1600m) was directly responsible for 2016 Singapore Horse of the Year Debt Collector's (NZ) (Thorn Park) early exit from Kranji, his arch-rival and another defeated local runner will be joining him on a flight to Australia – Countofmontecristo (NZ) (Echoes Of Heaven).

The plan is to actually race the Echoes Of Heaven five-year-old Down Under before bringing him back to Singapore next year, for hopefully another shot at the Kranji Mile, albeit with a proviso from his owner.

"Count pulled up good after the race. He has no issue, but I had already planned to send him to Australia for a break and then race him there, even if he had won the Kranji Mile," said owner Joe Giovanni.

"There are not any feature races on the Short Course in Singapore. There'll be better opportunities for him in Australia where he will race on different tracks, and he can be more competitive."

"I spoke to Kris Lees about Count and he will assist to take over as trainer once the horse reaches Melbourne. Count will go into quarantine on the same day as Debt Collector, the 6th of June."

"Kris will find suitable races for him there and if he does well, they will hopefully be nice lead-up races to some Group races in August."

"He will then have a freshen-up and then go to Perth for the two Group races in November and December. He will then take a break for two months before coming back to Mike in Singapore."

Bosson sidelined

Leading jockey Opie Bosson won't ride in June after suffering concussion in a race fall at Te Rapa on Wednesday.

X-rays and scans cleared Bosson of any serious injury after he fell from the Jamie Richards-trained Cicciolina (NZ) (Burgundy) after clipping heels soon after the finish when the winner Cherry Lane (NZ) (Redwood) was deemed to have shied at the winning post.

"I'm pretty sore, especially my sternum and shoulder, and I can't remember any of it," Bosson said.

Bosson, who has won six Group One races and the Karaka Million (1200m) this season, will now take a short break from riding and return in early July.

Gary Harding

Harding to watch Derby with interest

The world's most famous classic will carry some Kiwi interest this year, with a half-brother to a former champion New Zealand sprinter among the leading contenders.

The Aidan O'Brien-trained Anthony Van Dyck (Galileo) is on the third line of betting for this weekend's Gr.1 Investec Derby (2400m) at Epsom, having won the Listed Lingfield Derby Trial (2300m) by two and a quarter lengths in his most recent appearance. The only runners ahead of him in the market are his stablemates, Sir Dragonet (Camelot) and Broome (Australia).

Anthony Van Dyck is by Galileo out of the Exceed and Excel mare Believe'N'Succeed, making him a half-brother to Bounding (Lonhro). Full story here

NEWS IN BRIEF

Jason Waddell

Successful surgery for Waddell

Jockey Jason Waddell is already eyeing a return to the saddle on August 1 after undergoing a successful surgery on his leg on Monday morning.

Waddell missed parts of the season through the impact of compartment syndrome, which limited the supply of blood to his right leg, causing increased pressure and severe pain.

“If I do any impact, the calf muscle in my right leg swells. Whether it’s jumping on and off horses, any kind of running, skipping and going down flights of stairs,” he said.

“Unfortunately no blood goes down my leg and I get a build-up of lactic acid and I am unable to walk for a few hours and in quite a lot of pain.”

Despite the condition, Waddell still managed to ride home 53 winners including a Group One victory aboard Shadows Cast (NZ) (Per Incanto) in the Thorndon Mile (1600m) at Trentham in January.

“Through the leg I had to miss the first Group One at Hastings,” he said. “I missed a few big days during the season, just through when it flared up.

“To be up over 50 winners and have another Group One, and I pretty much only rode until Derby Day, so I was very happy with the season.”

Waddell is happy to get the surgery completed and is aiming towards a return to race day riding at the start of next season.

“It’s hard for them to give me a timeframe, but it’s quite a common injury with football players. The timeframe they give them is pretty much eight weeks to be back on the pitch playing,” he said.

“That’s been kicked and tackled around the leg, so I don’t think I will be that far. I have given myself six to eight weeks, so hopefully in the last week of July I’ll be back riding some around and then be rearing to go by August 1.”
